Important Information for Wholesale Dealers and Anadromous Fish Buyers

Determining Your Fee

The fee for a wholesale dealer license is $250. A fish buyer license is included in the wholesale dealer fee only when the individual named on the bond or savings account assignment is also the fish buyer and when the fish buyer column on the original wholesale dealer application form is completed. The $95 license fee is required for fish buyers who are corporate officers, additional buyers, or any other individual not named on the bond or savings account.

Corporation Licensing

Applications submitted in the name of a corporation must include a copy of those portions of the corporation papers that show the state seal, the corporation name, and a list of the current corporate officers. Only those individuals listed as corporate officers have the authority to sign for license renewals, changes, etc.

Fishery License Cards

Designation of a vessel is not required for license issuance. However, licenses for fisheries which require the use of a vessel must have the vessel designated on the license card in order to actively fish the license. Individuals who do not designate a vessel will be issued a license card. These cards will NOT have vessel information on them and they will NOT have WDFW registration numbers on the bottom right corner of the card. Check each card presented to you by the fisher - if fisher presents such a card to you, DO NOT PURCHASE THEIR PRODUCT; THAT LICENSE IS NOT VALID FOR LANDING PRODUCT.

Imported Fish Product Information

Fish tickets are required for all round (not processed) classified food fish or shellfish that are brought into the state of Washington from any state or country. Any import of fresh food fish, shellfish, or parts thereof, including iced fish or glazed fish not frozen throughout is required to be entered on fish receiving tickets. Custom canning or processing for other companies within Washington requires a wholesale dealers license.

If a wholesale dealer only imports products previously landed (fish tax paid) in other states or countries, that wholesale dealer does not need a fish buyer license. Fish receiving tickets are still required. Please contact Fish and Wildlife Information Systems office at (360) 902-2310 if you have any questions regarding fish tickets.

The following imports are not required to be listed on fish receiving tickets.

1. Fresh or frozen food fish or shellfish in interstate commerce, if no processing or repackaging occurs within Washington.
2. Food fish or shellfish packaged in another state for retail sales in Washington.
3. Any import of fish or shellfish which are frozen throughout, cured or canned.
4. Aquaculture products

Anadromous Fish Buyer Licenses

An anadromous game fish buyers' license is required to purchase or sell steelhead trout and other anadromous game fish or roe harvested by treaty Indians possessing valid federal or tribal fishing identification cards during lawful open seasons.

A plastic license card is issued to be used when purchasing anadromous tribal products. If you also hold a wholesale dealer license DO NOT use your wholesale fish buyer card, use your anadromous fish buyer license.

The fee for an anadromous fish buyer license is $180. Additional buyer cards are issued at no charge.
